Profile Summary

I'm a third-year Computer Science and Engineering student with a strong background in programming and web development. I enjoy working with technologies like React.js, JavaScript, HTML, and CSS to create clean, responsive, and user-friendly web pages. Recently, I worked on an Online Library Management System, which helped me sharpen my problem-solving skills and attention to detail. I'm always eager to learn, collaborate, and take on challenges that push me to deliver creative and effective solutions
